

The FCC should not implement any proposal that would lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. Currently I recieve 1 call a month, but I used to received 6 calls a day. The Telephone privacy law has made a huge difference in family time. No more interruptions during dinner, no more messages on the machine when I get home. Life is much more enjoyable without the hassling of telemarketers